

MAD DAD LIBS

Once upon a time, my father and I _____ across the country. The journey was _____, but we were _____. The _____ told us where to find our objective, so we set out at _____. My dad and I _____ with the owner of an inn before we ran into a _____ traveler who told us the secret of the _____. When we heard the traveler's words, Dad said, "We must _____ before the _____ gets away!" Hours later and several fights with the _____, we found the _____. The lights seemed to dim as we approached the _____ lair. What lay before us was _____, but Dad brandished his _____, and I gave a cry of _____. The _____ lazily looked over at us and said, "You could have simply _____." That was the best _____ ever.

Brookshire Brothers